Pharmatrans SANAQ® AG Services

Alongside its product range of excipients and Innovative ingredients, Pharmatrans Sanaq AG draws on its expertise in research, formulation, pharmaceutical production, regulatory compliance and marketing to offer a suite of tailored services.

Pharmatrans Swiss quality products and services embody its core mission to serve and support the pharmaceutical industry by offering innovative solutions through a safe analytical and quality (SANAQ) approach. Its services help customers develop and produce innovative solid and semisolid dosage forms and bring them to market faster and more successfully .

Capabilities

Pharmatrans Sanaq's core expertise is as an excipient's developer and supplier for pharmaceutical applications. It can make this formulation expertise available to customers to give them access to a complete portfolio of technical and smart solutions for the formulation development and manufacture of innovative products.

These services leverage from Pharmatrans solid experience and industrial know-how, along with its extensive knowledge and expertise in regulatory submissions. It can call on these skills, and in-house expertise from its team of formulator scientists, to deliver support for customized solutions in the excipients field, ranging from basic material selection to marketing of ready-made products.

International network

Pharmatrans Sanaq services are also based on the strength of its impressive international network of business partners and advanced, selected and qualified CMO and CDMO developers and manufacturers, several of whom hold significant international and local process patents. Pharmatrans also works in close partnerships with R&D centers and international universities.

This network places a vast amount of collective scientific, process and regulatory knowledge and expertise at the disposal of Pharmatrans and its customers.

Based on these strengths, Pharmatrans Sanaq is able to offer three service streams:

Niche products

Through its R&D team and strategic partners, Pharmatrans is able to develop products and solutions tailored to customer needs in the fields of high-performance excipients and direct compression blends.

These niche products can include neutral beads, functional cores and non-pareil beads incorporating high tech materials and based on particular particle size distribution (PSD) requirements.
